Legend Has It

The first "French fries" (frites) originated in Belgium and were brought to the States by World War veterans. Some of these same veterans heard rumors that the best fries were to be found at a roadside stand outside of Brussels. After risking their lives to find this stand, they indeed agreed these were Simply The World's Best Fries™. Following a very short negotiation with the armed oldiers, they secured the recipe.

The Jersey Shore Fry Company now possesses this long-lost legendary artisan recipe.

We hope you enjoy!
